- Submit with job applications for open positions
- Take it with you to a job interview
- Couple with your online presence (LinkedIn profile and/or portfolio)

A photograph of a white church with a tall steeple, set against a blue sky with light clouds. In the foreground, there is a brick sign with the text 'ON THE HILL'. The scene is lit with a warm, golden light, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. The church has a classical architectural style with columns and a pediment. The sign is mounted on two brick pillars. The background shows a green lawn and some trees.

YOUR FULL NAME

Internship

Your mailing address
Your phone numbers
Your email address
www.resume2018.net

Objective statement

The objective statement should tell an employer what you have to offer, how you can benefit the company. Your purpose is to grab a prospective employer's attention with one or two clear, compelling sentences. For high schoolers and college students applying for an internship, a career objective should showcase their character traits, relevant skills, and abilities: "Energetic and hard-working student who is driven and can meet strict deadlines. Aiming to use my knowledge of advertising, PR, product development, and my consumer research skills to satisfy the marketing internship at your company."

Education

For student resumes that lack professional experience, the education section is a major point of emphasis.

GPA 3.8/4.0 Nuneaton College 2013 - 2017
Bachelor of Arts in Communication, Marketing concentration

Relevant Coursework Describe classwork that demonstrates skills required for the internship. Include class projects that bolster your value to the employe:

- marketing management
- marketing research
- management information systems
- business statistics.

Work Experience

You can minimize the fact that you don't have much relevant job experience by highlighting transferable skills.

COFFEE Boutique, Chicago, IL, 2015-2017
Team Leader / crew member

Promoted to shift leader within 7 months of initial hire. Supervise a 4-member team, balancing receipts and depositing daily sales. Ensure accurate handling of all customer transactions and premium service delivery in every interaction.

New Balance Sports, Chicago, IL, 2014
Promoter

Organized and ran product promotions, advised customers on special offers and all products, assisted with sales.

Skills

List the skills that are most important to the internship you are applying for. Include proficiencies as well as interpersonal skills:

- Proficient in Microsoft Word, PowerPoint, and Excel
- Experience with online research
- Good communication skills
- Organizing and planning skills
- Initiative and creativity

Honors and Activities

Adding any awards and academic honors you have received. Highlight specific affiliations and volunteer work relevant to the internship you are seeking:

- College Judo Club (2015-2017)
- Literacy Volunteers of America (2016-present), tutored adults in basic literacy for 3 hours per week.

MASTER SOCIOLOGY
Arizona State University
2012 - 2014

BACHELOR COMMUNICATION SCIENCES
The University of Texas at Dallas
2008 - 2011

SUMMARY

My name is Martine, a happy, operational doer. I am good at planning and organizing and I constantly keep an overview. Furthermore, the enthusiasm of the people around me makes me happy. I am looking for an organization that has added social value for our society.

WORK EXPERIENCE

VOLUNTEER COORDINATOR

Mytass Welfare 2018 - Present

Mytass has a total of about 100 volunteers. I am responsible for more than 100 of them. This means that I ensure that these volunteers are in the right place within the organization and that they are happy to perform their tasks properly. Most volunteers carry a figurative backpack with them, but can still participate in society through the volunteer work.

At Mytass I am responsible for the proper management of the following parts of the organization:

- Recruiting and selecting new volunteers
- The reception - the business card of the company. The ladies at the desk ensure that all visitors and phone calls are answered expertly
- The Plus Service - This is a service where vulnerable local residents can ask volunteers to, for example, run errands, play a game or hang a light
- The dial-a-bus - We offer a means of transport for people who cannot use public transport within the municipality

OPERATIONS MANAGER

Global Savage 2015 - 2017

I managed various projects and worked in varying combinations with colleagues and stakeholders. It was important that I quickly built up a good relationship with them. I achieved this by listening carefully and asking the right questions. But it was also important that I planned things well and set the right priorities in the hectic pace of many activities.

- In other words, the analytical, operational and strategic running of projects by means of:
- Translate the wishes of customers into practice
- Continuous optimization and standardization of the daily processes
- Maintain an excellent relationship with customers as well as with team members and other stakeholders by communicating clearly about progress, deadlines and successes

YOUTH COACH

Vision Tech 2012 - 2015

- Making social issues a topic of discussion among young people in secondary schools. The topics discussed are cultural taboo or politically sensitive. The aim is to actively link these subjects to the living environment of young people. This involves both confrontation and dialogue.
- Conduct investigations (for example on crime for the municipality of Amsterdam) by means of group discussions

Education has the same rules as dates, if you have advanced degrees, list those in the order of most recent, or the highest level of education.

Dates should be listed with the most recent first and in order until the last. In resumes the day you started or stopped a job isn't as important as the month, so list dates as "MM/YYYY" or just year.

WORDING AND CONTENT

- Avoid using words like “I” or “me”
- Sentences should be bullet style statements that are concise and to the point
- Use action verbs, but make sure you do not overuse the same few (see list)
- Verbs used for current job should be in present tense, example “coordinates”
- Verbs used for past jobs should be in past tense, example “coordinated”

REFERENCES

- “References upon request” is a popular phrase to use when you do not have professional references specifically listed in your resume, but are willing to provide if needed
- References are not make or break, but adding the ability for the company to request them couldn't hurt

REFERENCE LIST

- Be prepared with a typed list when requested.
- Generally, a reference sheet will consist of the name, title, business mailing address, phone number and email addresses of three to five professional business/education references.
- Personal references are usually seen as a less objective source of information.
- Ask people if they are willing to serve as references before you give their names to a potential employer.
- It is a good idea to use the same header and font on your references page as you used on your resume.

Mr. George Williams
Director
Company Name
Street Address
City, State, Zip Code

Dear Mr. Williams,

Begin your introduction by stating what job you are applying for. This letter gives you an opportunity to explain why you are interested in a particular position and the organization. This is your chance to highlight the parts of your background that directly relate to the position for which you are applying. Show in a narrative form how you can meet their needs and communicate your interest, motivation, and self-confidence for the job.

Make sure you mention the specific position and your current status. Highlight the key points in your background that sell yourself as the right candidate for the position. You do not want to repeat everything that is in your resume – the cover letter just gives a taste of your accomplishments so the person will want to read your resume.

One useful way to tailor your letter to the job is to use keywords from the job posting. Think of concrete ways to prove you will add value to the company. Include examples of specific accomplishments from previous jobs. Close with all the important details. Your cover letter is an example of your communication skills, so draft it carefully and have it reviewed by a trusted person. Your first goal with this letter is to move on to the next step: an interview. Your overarching goal, of course, is to get a job offer. Use your application letter to further both of these causes.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to speaking with you about this employment opportunity.

Sincerely,

Meredith Walter

Use the hiring managers name if known. When you do not have the person's name "To Whom It May Concern" is a safe introduction.

Ms. Glenna Wright
Human Resources Manager
Fashion Department Store
2000 Line Drive
Fairfax, VA 22030

Dear Ms. Wright:

I enjoyed interviewing with you during your recruiting visit to Virginia Tech on October 25. The management trainee program you outlined sounds both challenging and rewarding and I look forward to your decision concerning an on-site visit.

As mentioned during the interview, I will be graduating in December with a Bachelor's degree in Fashion Merchandising. Through my education and experience I've gained many skills, as well as an understanding of retailing concepts and dealing with the general public. I have worked seven years in the retail industry in various positions from Salesclerk to Assistant Department Manager. I think my education and work experience would complement Fashion's management trainee program.

I have enclosed a copy of my college transcript and a list of references that you requested.

Thank you again for the opportunity to interview with Fashion Department Store. The interview served to reinforce my strong interest in becoming a part of your management team. I can be reached at (540) 555-1111 or by email at boles@vt.edu should you need additional information.

Sincerely,

Marianne Boles

EVALUATE

Evaluate and reflect on this application process

EVALUATE THE APPLICATION PROCESS

- Take time to reflect and evaluate how your application process was and what you could do better for next time
- Don't be discouraged, not everyone is right for every job
- It's about finding a good fit for both parties involved

INTERVIEW PROCESS TIMELINE

Send a cover letter & resume to the hiring agent via email if you have the information. If you do not have the name of the hiring agent, just submit these documents to the link provided.

By the next morning, follow up with the person that interviewed you and send them a handwritten thank you note or an email. This isn't super common these days so doing this will help you stand out.
