JCPenney

How to Suit-Up for an interview with Collection by Michael Strahan

Jacket's lapel should hug your shirt collar

The seam should rest naturally on your shoulder

Let a little sleeve show through

Tip of the tie should end at your beltline

Jacket length should never extend beyond your knuckles

Scan to shop

Business casual redefined

M

COLLECTION™
by MICHAEL STRAHAN

Classic brown/black dress shoes

Professional & comfortable

Dress for success with Collection by Michael Strahan suits

Why do I need to wear a suit to an interview?

Wearing a suit shows that you take the interview seriously and are prepared to put your best foot forward. A well-fitted suit can boost your confidence and make a strong first impression.

M COLLECTION™
by MICHAEL STRAHAN

What are the different ways to wear a suit for an interview?

Dressing Up

When it comes to dressing up, opt for a well-tailored suit in classic colors like navy, charcoal or black. Here's how to look professional.

Fit is key: Jacket should hug your shoulders & taper at the waist. Trousers should fit snugly without bunching or sagging.

Shirt selection: Pair your suit with crisp white or light-colored dress shirt for a timeless look.

Tie it up: Opt for a silk tie in solid colors or subtle patterns. Avoid flashy or novelty ties.

Footwear: Complete the look with a pair of polished leather shoes. Stick to classic oxfords or brogues.

Accessorize: Keep accessories to a minimum. A simple watch or subtle jewelry, if any.

Neat & tidy: Ensure your clothes are clean, pressed & free of wrinkles or stains.

Business Casuals

For a more relaxed yet professional vibe, take cues from Collection by Michael Strahan's business casual attire. Here are some great tips to follow.

Smart separates: Swap the suit jacket for blazers or sport coats. Choose light fabrics like cotton or linen for warmer days.

Casual shirts: Button-down shirts in solid colors or subtle patterns are your go-to. Roll up the sleeves for an easygoing vibe.

Pants pick: Pair your shirt with tailored chinos or dress pants in neutral tones like beige, grey or navy.

Shoe game: Loafers, derby shoes or suede boots are perfect choices for business casual attire. Polish them for a good shine.

Make a good first impression at your interview in Collection by Michael Strahan suits. Choose from a wide range of versatile styles to look smart & feel confident.